

CLA SOUTH WEST SHOW & EVENTS PROGRAMME SUMMER 2023

CLA SOUTH WEST

WELCOME

IZZY HAMILTON EVENTS COORDINATOR

Welcome to the summer edition of the CLA South West event and show programme 2023!

I would like to thank you all for being so welcoming in my first year of working at the CLA. The event industry has been through many changes in the aftermath of the pandemic, so it has been great to put on face-to-face events once more.

We're very excited that show season is around the corner. Please remember to book your place at our sell-out show breakfasts to avoid disappointment as capacity is limited. If you turn up on the day without booking, we may not have space for you.

This year we are doing things a little differently. The south west region have always been committed to supporting the local charities in rural areas and has been proud to fundraise during our busy show season every year. As an aside to this however, we have seen a significant rise in costs in the events sector this year. Therefore, to ensure that we continue to deliver quality events and fulfil our commitment to helping local charities, we will be asking for a very small payment of £14.50 per person (incl. VAT) at our show breakfasts. A proportion of this will be donated to the CLA Charitable Trust.

Over the next couple of months we have a variety of interesting social and technical events planned, including a Women's Network event with Catherine Mead.

I look forward to seeing you soon,

Izzy Hamilton
Events Coordinator

What does it all mean? With countries and organisations all in a race to achieve net zero emissions, and increase biodiversity, carbon markets are projected to increase 15-fold, with most of that growth estimated to come from nature-based solutions: tree planting, peatland restoration and – potentially – soil carbon. Can farmers look to the new environmental markets to farm profitably and make up the shortfall from BPS? Are there too many demands on our land and how do we choose? We will explore these nature-based solutions and the potential opportunities. Alongside other panelists (TBC) we will be joined by CLA Senior Land Use Policy Adviser Graham Clark and Tom Mason, Environment Bank Head of Land (South West). The morning's debate will be chaired by Deputy President Victoria Vyvyan.

CATERING IN THE CLA MARQUEE

We are delighted to welcome back Lyn's Catering who will be supplying delicious local Cornish produce throughout the show.

Lyn's Catering has been successfully trading for over 32 years.

The business was started by Lyn, whose passion for food stems from growing up on a farm near Dawlish where her father grew fresh vegetables and hunted game, and her mum finished off every meal with one of her much-loved puddings.

The friendly team at Lyn's Catering is responsible for delivering exceptional food at various events and parties across the region. They take pride in supporting local organic farms where possible. By nurturing the fresh ingredients with the same consideration and compassion as their suppliers, the chefs at Lyn's Catering go the extra mile to create food that is fresh, wholesome and scrumptious.

At our first and second day breakfasts - a full Cornish breakfast - will be served up to attendees. Members can later return for a delicious two-course lunch which will include locally sourced meats (from Kittows Butchers), cheeses and a selection of salads, with the menu set to include poached fresh salmon, smoked ham, traditional meatloaf, and sliced meats. Lunch is priced at £30.00pp. Booking is not required.

On the last day of the show, Lyn's Catering will be serving light-bite lunch options priced at £18 for adults and £10 for children under 12.

Lunch will be served from 12pm to 2pm each show day.

A fully stocked bar will include Cornish gin, cider, beer, ales and wine as well as a wide selection of other tipples and soft drinks. We'll even be serving a bespoke cocktail.

OPEN-AIR DAIRY

Thursday 22 June 2.00pm to 4.30pm

The Open-Air Dairy, Littlebredy, Dorchester, Dorset England, DT29HE

Price: £15.00 (incl. VAT)

Nestled in the beautiful Dorset countryside at Littlebredy, near Dorchester, Tom and his business partner Neil Grigg milk 580 spring calving free range cows. The cows live outside all year round and they are milked in the field through mobile milking parlours. The parlours are taken to the cows wherever they are grazing. Tom and Neil manufacture their milking parlours for other farmers and sell their cheese under the open-air dairy brand.

The cows live a laid-back way of life at Littlebredy. It's believed that this makes the cows happier, healthier and what makes the cheddar taste so great!

Tom Foot has invited CLA members on a tour of the open-air dairy. We will have a tour of the farm then head over to the fields to watch the open-air dairy in action followed by some cheese tasting.

Please ensure to wear sensible footwear and suitable clothing for the weather. We advise bringing bottled water in case it is hot.

Thursday 6 July 10.15am to 12.30pm

Lynher Dairies, Ponsanooth, Truro, West Cornwall TR3 7JQ

Price: £18.00 (incl. VAT)

The CLA Women's Network was set up in 2020 by CLA Director General Sarah Hendry to encourage more women to be active in the CLA and create networking, mentoring and social opportunities for members.

Lynher Dairies are the sole producers of the iconic nettle-wrapped Cornish Yarg, Wild Garlic Yarg, Cornish Kern - a Supreme Champion at the World Cheese Awards - and the local's favourite, buttery Stithians. The delicious cheeses are made by hand in open vats from the creamy milk produced by our own Ayrshires and other carefully selected herds. Happy cows are at the heart of the Lynher Dairies ethos.

Owned by Catherine Mead OBE, the small dairy is based in Ponsanooth, near Truro. Based on a 17th century recipe, they paint the foraged leaves, nettle, or wild garlic, on to the cheeses to create Yarg and let nature do the rest. The Stithians and Kern cheeses are encased in wax as they mature for longer.

Their award-winning cheeses can be found in specialist cheese shops, farm shops and delis across the UK and further afield.

LAMORRAN HOUSE GARDENS TOUR

Tuesday 11 July 2.30pm to 4.30pm

Lamorran House Gardens, Lamorran House, Upper Castle Road, St Mawes, Cornwall TR2 5BZ

Price: £27.00 (incl. VAT)

Lamorran is a subtropical, Italianate inspired garden on Cornwall's beautiful Roseland peninsula.

A garden of many levels, it is situated on a south facing slope, and is surrounded on three sides by the benign influence of the warming sea. St Anthony's headland sits across the water, creating a protected inlet to St Mawes and the river beyond.

These unique conditions mean that the garden remains frost free in all but the most serious of winters; the last recorded frost being in 1987. A wide range of plants from all over the world is therefore able to be grown, resulting in something of a plantsperson's paradise. An extensive, eclectic and unusual range of plants can be found, with particular emphasis on southern hemisphere and sub-tropical flora.

Many features are included to divide the garden into intimate compartments which the visitor can find and explore. There are areas of woodland, a water garden in Japanese style as well as temples and archways in the steeper parts of the garden, and a small bridge on which to lean and look out over the bay exhibiting a distinctly Venetian influence.

The guiding principle behind the garden has been the desire to create tranquillity and beauty in harmony with nature

CLA members will be greeted by a gardener for a welcome talk, you can then view the gardens at your own leisure followed by a Q&A with the gardener. We will then be seated on the veranda for tea & coffee and a selection of cakes and scones.
